FILIBUSTER MOVE MAY SNARL UP CONGRESS

Twin Cities Use Lake Water in Sewage Disposal

COMMISSION SEEKS DELAYING LAKE LEVELS BILL

CONG. KNUTSON ASKS FOR INFORMATION ON AMOUNT OF WATER THEY USE

SECRETARY AND CHIEF ENGINEER TO REPORT HIS FINDINGS TO CONGRESSMAN

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—Representative Harold Knutson, St. Cloud, today wired the metropolitan drainage commission, which met to consider sewage disposal of the Twin Cities, asking how the plan would affect the lake levels of north Minnesota.

The representative in Washington wanted to know how much water would be required for proper sewage treatment in the two cities.

J. A. Childs, secretary and chief engineer of the commission, was authorized to make a study of the situation and report his findings to Representative Knutson.

The commission decided to ask the Minnesota congressional delegation to seek delay in legislation now before congress concerning minimum lake levels in Minnesota.

BROTHERS TRIED SOON FOR ALLEGED KILLING OF ALFRED LINGLE

Chicago, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—Leo V. Brothers will be tried immediately on charges of murdering Alfred Lingle, it was said today by state attorneys who held the suspect in seclusion and dared the underworld to make one move to obtain his release on a writ of habeas corpus.

"We would like for that to happen," said State's Attorney John A. Swanson when informed that a firm of attorneys who specialize in defending gangsters, was preparing to seek Brothers' release on a writ.

"Perhaps," he added, "it would give us an idea who is behind Brothers."

The whereabouts of Brothers became as much of a mystery as the reason that he was held after Swanson and Pat Roche, his chief investigator, spirited him into seclusion after calling newspaper men into their office, pointing to the tall, athletic Brothers and announcing dramatically:

"There, gentlemen, is the man who killed Lingle."

Further than that Brothers, who has been arrested 66 times in St. Louis and is wanted there on a charge of murder, had been identified positively as the man who shot the Tribune reporter on last June 9, Swanson and his assistants have given out little information concerning the arrest. They said publication of further details would hinder their investigation, which, they said, was "far from finished."

The question "who killed Lingle and why?" which newspapers have asked time after time, has, consequently, been only half answered and, as pointed out by Swanson himself, "Brothers had not been convicted."

Italian Seaplanes Leave Natal Saturday Morning

Natal, Brazil, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—The flight of the Italian seaplane squadron to Bahia was postponed today until Saturday morning.

Fernando, Noronha Island, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—The second of two Italian seaplanes forced down during the squadron flight across the south Atlantic arrived here today, towed by the Italian destroyer Passagno.

The first of the machines forced down arrived yesterday and flew to Natal to join the other ten seaplanes.

CAR CRASHES INTO HOLE, TWO NEARLY DROWN IN WATER

Minneapolis, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—When their automobile crashed into a hole in north Minneapolis streets caused by the bursting of a 40-inch water main, G. E. Woehler, 67, and John Lynch, 40, escaped drowning by tearing a hole in the top of a sedan.

The car went past warning signals, water department officials said, and dropped into the crater. The pressure of the rising water held the doors fast and the men had to fight their way out.

Using Grocery Orders to Buy Beer Material

Flint, Mich., Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—Local welfare officials were aroused today by the claim that many of Flint's poor are using grocery orders to buy beer manufacturers' materials instead of food.

5 PATIENTS IN FIRE OWE LIVES TO THEIR NURSE

Brownwood, Tex., Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—Five patients of the Brownwood hospital, all critically ill, owed their lives today to the heroism of a young nurse, Miss Rose Mahabey.

When fire broke out on the first floor of the hospital, Miss Mahabey single handedly carried the five to safety. She then returned to remove four cylinders of high explosive gas from the operating room.

The flames, which were believed to have originated in a defective bell signal system, caused $25,000 damage.

PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE IS BOLSTERED

REP. KNUTSON CONTINUED AS CHAIRMAN HOUSE INSULAR AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

ADVOCATES INDEPENDENCE BECAUSE OF ISLAND COMPETITION IN PRODUCTS

Washington, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—The cause of Philippine independence was bolstered in congress today through a bit of republican insurgency.

Rep. Knutson, republican, Minnesota, an advocate of independence for the insular possessions in the Pacific, became chairman of the house insular affairs committee, which has jurisdiction, by threatening to bolt his party in organization of the new house.

He announced today he would bring his bill for independence before his committee in December, explaining he would not act now because of danger of causing an extra session. Republican leaders for several years have kept independence measures bottled up.

Though Knutson was in line for the chairmanship as ranking republican member, majority leaders were hostile to his claims because of his independence views. So he reminded them of the close division between republicans and democrats in the house which takes office March 4, and hinted they might need his vote. Knutson succeeds the late Rep. Kiess, republican, Pennsylvania.

Knutson's advocacy of Philippine independence is largely because of competition of its products, especially sugar and coconut oil, with middle western products. Oleomargarine, made from coconut oil, competes with butter and sugar with domestic sugar beets.

TWO JAIL BREAKERS ARE SENTENCED

Superior, Wis., Jan. 9.—Concurrent terms of one to five and five to eight years in Waupun state penitentiary were started today by John Hoban, 23, and Melvin Carnes, 20, both of Chicago, who broke jail here after being arrested on burglary charges.

The men pleaded guilty to burglary and assault charges. The assault occurred when they attacked Kenneth McLaggan, night jailer, and escaped from Douglas county jail Sunday night.

The pair was re-arrested at Stillwater, Minn., Tuesday.

Russian Soviet to Glut Wheat Market in 1933 With 200,000,000 Bushels, Predicted

EXPERT IN DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE MAKES FORECAST

DR. C. F. MARBUT RECENTLY RETURNED FROM JOURNEY IN RUSSIA

ATTENDED SOIL SCIENCE CONGRESS AT Leningrad AND MOSCOW

By DR. FRANK THONE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 9.—Two hundred million bushels of wheat will be exported from Russia in 1933 if the five-year plan holds up, according to a prophecy made by Dr. C. F. Marbut of the U. S. agriculture department in a report prepared for the geographical review.

Dr. Marbut, chief of the department's division of soil surveys, recently returned from an extended scientific journey in Russia where he attended the second international soil science congress at Leningrad and Moscow. He took a leading part in the first congress held at Washington in 1927.

In his survey of the wheat-producing possibilities of Russia and the United States, Dr. Marbut points out many important advantages enjoyed by the former.

The potential wheat producing acreage in Russia is much better than that of the United States. Russia has more than 482,000,000 acres of first-quality wheat land, as compared with 99,000,000 acres in this country. Of second-quality wheat land, Russia has nearly 372,000,000 acres, as compared with about 135,000,000 acres in this country.

Russia also has some advantages in transportation facilities. In this country the great grain belt in the plains state is remote from tidewater ports and lacks navigable rivers so that all its wheat has to be hauled long distances by rail.

The European part of the Russian grain belt, on the contrary, runs directly to the Black Sea and is crossed or bordered by three large navigable rivers. The wheat zone in Asiatic Russia, however, is not so favorably situated.

There is a basic similarity between the soil types that are best for wheat in the two countries. The first-quality wheat soil, whether in western America or in southern Russia, is a deep, black earth known the world over by a Russian name, "chernozem." Second quality wheat soil is lighter in color and bears the English name "chestnut" or "chestnut brown."

The Russian wheat zone is about 200 miles wide, extending eastward from the Roumanian border to the region of Lake Baikal, though the best of it stops considerably to the westward, in the valley of the Ob river. The American wheat belt begins in northern Texas and runs to the Canadian line, whence it continues far "up the map" under the Canadian flag.

Whereas the rest of the world already has put most of its possible wheat acreage into actual cultivation, Russia has vast land reserves that have never known the plow. It is this coupled with the grandiose schemes for farms as big as whole countries, that is causing uneasiness among the non-Soviet agricultural economists at the present time.

"ONLY COWARDS CARRY REVOLVERS" SAID CARPENTIER

SUBMITTED PEACEFULLY TO 4 HOLDUP MEN ROBBING LITA GREY CHAPLIN AND HIMSELF

"I WOULDN'T FIGHT FOUR REVOLVERS," SAID THE FRENCH FUGITIVE

New York, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—"Only cowards carry revolvers," Georges Carpentier said in explaining today why he submitted peacefully to four holdup men who allegedly kidnaped and robbed him and Lita Grey Chaplin, former wife of the cinema star, of money and $14,000 in jewelry.

"I don't mind if the bandits do come back, that is, if they don't bring revolvers with them," said the former light heavyweight champion. He explained that detectives had told him not to reveal too much about the alleged robbery, lest the bandits return and take vengeance.

Both Mrs. Chaplin and Carpentier spent an hour in the rogues gallery at police headquarters, but failed to identify their assailants from the pictures.

Carpentier seemed slightly embarrassed when reporters asked him why he had not used his fist prowess to advantage on the bandits.

"I wouldn't fight four revolvers," he said.

Spanish Army Air Service is Disbanded by Decree

Madrid, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—The Spanish army air service was disbanded and plans for its reorganization were outlined in a decree published today.

The decree had been expected, in view of the attempted revolt at Cuatro Vientos airdrome recently, led by Ramon Franco.

PARLIAMENTARY MOVE MAY GROW FOR EXTRA SESSION

14 SENATORS AWAIT CHANCE TO JOIN IN DEBATE OVER POWER COMMISSIONERS

IN HOUSE STALEMATE ON THE DROUGHT RELIEF IS PERSISTING

By LYLE C. WILSON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 9.—A filibuster in behalf of an extra session of congress was suspected by republican leaders today as 14 senators awaited an opportunity to join in the protracted debate over President Hoover's power commissioners. In the house, the stalemate on drought relief persisted. The legislative alternatives appeared to be night sessions soon or a special session later.

There are complaints in the senate against the house refusal to accept the proposition that human as well as stock food be supplied to distressed farmers, and administration leaders are threatening the senate with night sessions to prevent the power debate from continuing into next week.

Eight republicans and six democrats have informed Assistant Majority Leader McNary they desire to speak on the Walsh motion to reconsider the confirmation of Power Commissioners Smith, Garsud and Draper. The debate promises to reverberate and echo in the 1932 campaign. As far as the senate is concerned the campaign already is on.

Senators seeking the opportunity to speak on the power motion are:

Republicans — Shortridge, Couzens, Norris, Brookhart, Borah, Cutting, Blaine and Johnson; democrats — Broussard, Ransdell, Walsh (Mont.), Barkley, Dill and George. Four of the group probably will defend the commissioners.

On two successive days McNary has proposed agreement to limit debate and has been defeated. He said he might put the night session proposal to a vote today.

Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, relieved yesterday's sombre proceedings with a serious rebuke to the senate for spending its time on the power matter when distress awaited relief. He urged night sessions for such executive business as the fitness of appointees and day sessions for emergency legislation.

"I suggest," boomed Heflin, "that we meet tomorrow night and every night until all the constitutional lawyers have discussed this matter. Here we are holding at bay all legislative business of the nation while one constitutional lawyer sets the legal machinery in the heads of all the other constitutional lawyers to working, and each has got to get up and make it known."

"While there is starvation in the country and millions are in distress, this senate ought to be engaged in informing the president of conditions, and especially in educating the house where the relief legislation is held up. Power is important, but it is not so important as relief."

But there is a serious purpose behind the debate on the three commissioners. The democrats are grinding out campaign material, as they expect power to figure largely in 1932. If they can obtain an adverse vote on the commissioners, President Hoover will refuse to resubmit the nominations, but the democrats' purpose will have been gained.

FOUR FIRES BLAMED ON A PYROMANIAC

Minneapolis, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—Four fires causing a loss of $15,000 were blamed on a pyromaniac today as police and fire marshals investigated the blazes.

The whereabouts of a former insane asylum inmate living in southeast Minneapolis was sought by officials today. Two-thirds of the city's fire fighting forces were called during the series of fires.

WAR VETERANS ORGANIZE BLOC

Ignoring party lines, the veterans, numbering about 100 who saw service in various wars, elected the youthful Paul Kvale, farmer-laborer, Minn., as chairman. Rep. Gibson, republican, Vt., was named secretary.

The debate promises to reverberate and echo in the 1932 campaign. As far as the senate is concerned the campaign already is on.

Senators seeking the opportunity to speak on the power motion are:

Republicans — Shortridge, Couzens, Norris, Brookhart, Borah, Cutting, Blaine and Johnson; democrats — Broussard, Ransdell, Walsh (Mont.), Barkley, Dill and George. Four of the group probably will defend the commissioners.

On two successive days McNary has proposed agreement to limit debate and has been defeated. He said he might put the night session proposal to a vote today.

Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, relieved yesterday's sombre proceedings with a serio-comic rebuke to the senate for spending its time on the power matter when distress awaited relief. He urged night sessions for such executive business as the fitness of appointees and day sessions for emergency legislation.

"I suggest," boomed Heflin, "that we meet tomorrow night and every night until all the constitutional lawyers have discussed this matter. Here we are holding at bay all legislative business of the nation while one constitutional lawyer sets the legal machinery in the heads of all the other constitutional lawyers to working, and each has got to get up and make it known."

"While there is starvation in the country and millions are in distress, this senate ought to be engaged in informing the president of conditions, and especially in educating the house where the relief legislation is held up. Power is important, but it is not so important as relief."

But there is a serious purpose behind the debate on the three commissioners. The democrats are grinding out campaign material, as they expect power to figure largely in 1932. If they can obtain an adverse vote on the commissioners, President Hoover will refuse to resubmit the nominations, but the democrats' purpose will have been gained.

FOUR FIRES BLAMED ON A PYROMANIAC

Minneapolis, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—Four fires causing a loss of $15,000 were blamed on a pyromaniac today as police and fire marshals investigated the blazes. The fires were in a city-owned skating rink warming house with skates and refectory equipment, and three garages.

The whereabouts of a former insane asylum inmate living in southeast Minneapolis was sought by officials today. Two-thirds of the city's fire fighting forces were called during the series of fires.

Washington, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—House war veterans today definitely organized a veterans' bloc to promote veterans' legislation, including the controversial bills for cash payment of adjusted compensation certificates.

Ignoring party lines, the veterans, numbering about 100 who saw service in various wars, elected the youthful Paul Kvale, farmer-laborer, Minn., as chairman. Rep. Gibson, republican, Vt., was named secretary.

LEGISLATORS OF KANSAS RESENT $3 WAGE PAID

RESOLUTION PROPOSES THEY LIVE IN A LOG HOUSE ON THE CAPITOL GROUNDS

THAT THEY SLEEP ON WOODEN BUNKS AND COOK THEIR OWN MEALS

Topeka, Kansas, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—A resolution that Kansas legislators live in a log house on the capitol grounds, sleep on wooden bunks and cook their own meals in order to keep within their $3 day incomes will be offered in the coming session of the Kansas legislature by Caldwell Davis of Bourbon county.

The resolution provides for buildings on the capitol grounds of a log dormitory "in keeping with the fashion of 1859," when the present rate of legislators' pay was fixed.

"The dormitory," the resolution provides, "should be provided with wooden bunks supplied with fresh clean straw twice weekly and with tallow candles which may be burned until 9 P. M. and equipped with a kitchen wherein domestic science shall be taught to the members so that possibly they can live upon the generous allowance now made to them."

Davis said voters repeatedly had declined to raise the legislators' salaries and that his solution was the only way they could live on their present pay.

WARBURG JOINS THE FORCES OF OPTIMISM

INTERNATIONAL BANKER HAS CLOSE TOUCH ON BUSINESS PULSE

New York, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—Paul M. Warburg, international banker, who has witnessed fulfillment of his prediction two years ago that a stock market collapse and consequent business depression would result if stock speculation did not cease, has joined the forces of optimism for America's future.

While he did not venture to predict when the depression would end, Warburg, at a joint meeting of directors of the various units of the Manhattan Company, of which he is chairman of the board, declared yesterday that "no sane person doubts that, eventually, it will end, and that a country as unique in resources and opportunities as ours will ultimately get back in its stride."

"Comparatively brief periods of under-production in a country containing over 120,000,000 temperamental enthusiasts customers must bring about a revival of business activity," he asserted.

Touching on the stock and bond market, Warburg said that from his point of view as a banker, "a few years hence the level at which some of our securities fell today will look as incomprehensibly low as the prices paid for the same securities seemed unreasonably high long before the crash occurred in October, 1929."

"If, in those days prices were far in excess of what would have been warranted by the record of past performance, today's prices for certain bonds and stocks, measured by the same standard, would seem far too low, even though one might anticipate a year or two of reduced dividends."

The banker placed much of the blame for the present depression on "those ostrich politicians who indulge in the nationalistic illusion that our country can still maintain for itself a position of privileged isolation governed solely by considerations of its own domestic interests."

BANDIT SPENDS NIGHT WITH CASHIER, THEN ROBS BANK

D. E. WILKINS COMPELLED TO ACCOMPANY ROBBER TO BANK

$6,000 LOOT TAKEN; WILKINS IS KIDNAPED, BOUND AND THROWN FROM CAR

Mowville, Iowa, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—A bandit who spent the night with D. E. Wilkins, cashier of the First Trust and Savings Bank here, accompanied the bank official to his work this morning and robbed the bank of $6,000.

The robber then kidnaped the banker and drove him 10 miles west of town, where he was bound and thrown under a bridge.

Meantime Wilkins' wife was at her home, tied to the basement stairs.

The robber broke into the cashier's home last night and patiently waited until Wilkins and his wife returned from a dinner party. As they entered their home he held them up and spent the next eight hours chatting with them.

At 8 A. M. he made sure Mrs. Wilkins was securely bound in the basement and then, with his gun pressed against the cashier's side, accompanied him to his work.

The pair arrived at the bank at 8:20 A. M. and were forced to wait 20 minutes until the time lock on the vault released the bank's funds.

With his arms filled with loot and a gun in his back Wilkins was forced to proceed ahead of the bandit from the rear door of the bank to the waiting car.

Posses quickly were organized and began search for the robber, who apparently was headed west into Nebraska.

"I asked him what he was going to do," said Wilkins today in describing the midnight meeting with the bandit. "That was after we had overcome the first shock of the holdup and began to wonder just what his plans were."

The robber, who was dressed in a leather jacket and was bareheaded, at first said nothing, but finally became almost sociable.

"He was a man of more than 30 years of age, I judged, and he appeared very determined. When I kept pressing him for his plans, he said:

"You'll see soon enough. I'm going with you to the bank in the morning and you're going to get me the money that's there."

Wilkins said he tried to talk the bandit out of the plan by telling him he was sure to get caught.

"There ain't a chance in the world to catch me," the bandit replied. "I know my business."

Jonesville, Ind., Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—A customer of the Jonesville State Bank walked in while a robbery was in progress today, dodged the holdup man's pistol fire, and ran out to spread the alarm. The customer was Albert Kiel. Despite his bravery, the robber escaped with $250.

The Rainbow class of the Intermediate department of the M. E. church will meet at the home of Beverly Britton, 901 South Seventh street, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Most Valuable Diamonds

George W. Kuns, gem expert, says that no diamond has ever brought $10,000,000. The largest diamond in the inventory of the crown jewelry of France in 1791 was estimated at $2,400,000. The Cullinan diamond—90 per cent of its value was set at 300,000 pounds—might possibly bring a million pounds if sold, especially after having passed through the crown period.

"I asked him what he was going to do," said Wilkins today in describing the midnight meeting with the bandit. "That was after we had overcome the first shock of the holdup and began to wonder just what his plans were."

"The robber, who was dressed in a leather jacket and was bareheaded, at first said nothing, but finally became almost sociable."

"He was a man of more than 30 years of age, I judged, and he appeared very determined. When I kept pressing him for his plans, he said: 'You'll see soon enough. I'm going with you to the bank in the morning and you're going to get me the money that's there.'"

Wilkins said he tried to talk the bandit out of the plan by telling him he was sure to get caught.

"There ain't a chance in the world to 'catch me,' the bandit replied. 'I know my business.'"

Jonesville, Ind., Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—A customer of the Jonesville State Bank walked in while a robbery was in progress today, dodged the holdup man's pistol fire, and ran out to spread the alarm. The customer was Albert Kiel. Despite his bravery, the robber escaped with $250.

Most Valuable Diamonds

George W. Kuns, gem expert, says that no diamond has ever brought $10,000,000. The largest diamond in the inventory of the crown jewelry of France in 1791 was estimated at $2,400,000. The Cullinan diamond—60 per cent of its value was set at 200,000 pounds—might possibly bring a million pounds if sold, especially after having passed through the crown period.

NURSE REPORTS

HER 1930 WORK

Annual Report of Miss Caroline Walz
Covers All Phases of Work in County

The annual report of Miss Caroline Walz, county public health nurse for the year 1930 received today follows: Again another year has passed and the time of reckoning is at hand. This is a brief summary of the county nurse's duties and accomplishments of 1930.

Preventive

During the year 352 homes were visited. 962 visits were made. They were for the purpose of giving nursing care, instructions, investigating for contagion, checking on medical expenses of the 50 families who were taking part in the national survey on the cost of medical care and business calls.

At several different times during the year outbreaks of contagious diseases required special visits to schools and homes to aid in the prevention and extermination of scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough, mumps, impetigo, chicken pox and pediculosis.

There are 88 schools in the county not including those at Brainerd, Crosby and Ironton. The enrollment was 2130 pupils.

138 visits were made to school rooms. 1577 children were inspected.

Due to the change in system and records an accurate report on school nursing cannot be given at this time. This will be done after the closing of the schools in spring.

Clinics

Chest clinics are held twice each month on the second and fourth Saturdays. Assistance was given at 17 clinics. One hundred people were examined.

Through the Minnesota Public Health Association two clinics were held for the high school girls, one at Pequot and the other at Riverton. 58 girls were examined. Mantoux tests were given. Arrangements were made and 17 girls had X-rays taken. Twelve girls were referred to their doctor for advice and treatment and observation.

Educational

In January and February health letters were sent to each rural teacher. A course in Mother Craft was given to a group of 26 girls.

Three classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick with an enrollment of 54 members finished their course of 14 lessons. Thirty-two members who had met with all the requirements in regard to attendance and final examination were awarded very attractive Red Cross certificates.

In connection with the latter course two demonstrations in Life Saving were given. About 62 people attended. This was made possible by the local Red Cross Chapter.

Numerous requests are made in regard to health literature: 2799 pieces were distributed, 767 on maternal and infant care, 105 on tuberculosis, 50 on communicable disease, 1877 on care of teeth, proper posture, milk, hot lunches at school, birth registration and proper weight.

Two surveys were completed: A health survey of the county and the other on the cost of medical care, which is a national program.

A regional conference was attended at Brainerd in June and public health nurse's meeting at Minneapolis in October.

An exhibit emphasizing the proper care and diet for teeth was arranged for at the county and Crosby fairs. The vegetable dolls representing the "strong teeth family" were greatly admired by all who made their acquaintance. A house stuccoed with oatmeal; doors and windows covered with raisins; a foundation of apricots; the roof shingled with graham and soda crackers; the walk of oyster crackers; and the chimney and porch covered with beans was an admiration for all the children. It was made by the second grade pupils of the Riverton school.

Six sub-advisory boards have been organized. This arrangement will enable the nurse to come in closer contact with the far outlying districts.

Remedial

It often becomes necessary to give assistance to the sick and physically handicapped.

During the year six patients were taken to the local hospital.

Six were taken to the University hospital.

Eight children were taken to the Gillette state hospital for crippled children.

One little boy was a recent infantile paralysis case.

Two children were taken to the Eustis hospital. One has since been readmitted for further treatment, and arrangements made for the admission of another two year old child. (The care given the children, who are eligible, in the latter two hospitals is free. One being a state institution and the other is supported through an endowment fund.)

One child was accompanied to the dentist; two to the tuberculosis clinic; seven patients to doctor's offices.

One young girl was taken to the Deerwood sanatorium and two old people to Mrs. Hall's home for the aged.

Several Christmas boxes were delivered or called for, and considerable clothing was given out. A most sincere appreciation and hearty thanks to all who have made so generous a donation and thereby bringing joy and a ray of sunshine to the needy.

Administration

Nine meetings with the nurse's advisory board were attended.

Twenty-four other meetings and one with each of the six sub-advisory boards were attended.

Fourteen talks were given. 713 letters were sent. Office interviews and telephone calls,

Total number of hours on duty, 2382 2-15.
Mileage, 17,662.

Representatives from the Division of Child Hygiene, State Board of Health, State Board of Control and State Educational Department were visitors. They work in an advisory capacity. Much valuable advice is obtained. We always appreciate the new methods and ideas they leave with us.

A most sincere "thank you" to each and everyone who, in any way, has given assistance and cooperation to the county nurse in her work.

Remember the Good

PAUL BLOCK, noted writer, publisher and director of many newspaper enterprises, recently carried a fine glowing editorial in his newspapers. He counsels one to remember the good, and states:

"It was an old French philosopher who said, 'I have lived a long time, and I have seen only the good.' During the year that is past many have been seeing too much and thinking too constantly of things that are not good and which ought not to be remembered. We have heard much of unsatisfactory business conditions, of international disturbances, of the rumors of war. There seemed to be a great deal of bad news in the world, and it was all but overwhelming.

"During the Christmas holidays which have now come to a close, our thoughts turned to the better and finer things of life—to family and friends and the generosity of the human spirit. We have been remembering, during these days, that there is much goodness and kindness and thoughtfulness all about us. We see that it is a good world after all.

"The thing to remember about the past year is not a temporary business depression and temporary unemployment. The thing to remember is that millions of dollars throughout the length and breadth of the land have been quickly and gladly contributed in an effort to relieve human suffering.

"Rather than remember international quarrels that seem so near the surface, we should think of the London disarmament conference which marks only the beginning of what some day may be a lasting program of peace among the nations.

"When we are tempted to remember bad business, let us recall instead the tremendous fact that the United States is about to spend about a billion dollars in public works in the year 1931. This is the largest construction program in the history of our country. It will give employment to many thousands of men.

"During the past year we have seen governments in South America overturned. We have seen European cabinets come and go. We have seen nations shaken from their foundations. Let us be happy in the conviction that the government of the United States is sound. Let us be happy in the thought that the American people are the best cared-for in all the world.

"And so, this New Year's Day, following the close of a year in which we have found much to worry about, let us remember the great blessing that has come to this nation, and the many reasons for thankfulness that confronts us all.

"The spirit of Christmas made us remember only the good. May that memory remain with us and keep us on the upward road in the year to come."

Norman B. Black

WHEN death wrote "30" to the career and life of Norman B. Black, of Fargo, N. D., it took from the Northwest a great publisher and writer, a man endowed with all the attributes of a real gentleman, a man who believed in his fellow man and who in many ways, individually and through his affiliation with various organizations, labored to better conditions in the world for all humanity.

Black's career was marked by indefatigable energy, and by the intelligent use of the resources which nature so splendidly endowed him with. Of commanding presence, he graced well any lecture platform. He had a splendid baritone voice which found its most wonderful utterance in that song which Rotary sings, "The Bells of St. Mary." His pen was never idle. He combatted evil and sham whether it reared its twin head in politics or elsewhere.

Frequently he visited Brainerd. While Rotary District Governor he widened his acquaintance in the Northwest. His record in Rotary raised him to high distinction in the international circles of the service organization.

His death is felt as a personal loss by the many privileged to know him in Brainerd and elsewhere.

Taxation Bills are Numerous

THE new legislature of Minnesota will be faced with a mass of bills, some radical in their nature, seeking new ways to tax the citizens. After a year of depression industry and labor are seeking daylight and want to breathe better without being fettered with new ideas on taxation. Even the gasoline tax is not exempt, somebody wants to tack another cent on the tax.

Some other fellow wants to raise the license fee range on cars. In dozens of ways the legislators are striking to raise more money by taxation and then to spend the money.

A moratorium in taxation bills would certainly be a good thing in these days of reconstruction, new building and emerging from the past year's slough of despond.

Such a Pleasant Winter

It has been many years since Brainerd and the Lake Country have seen such a pleasant winter as we are now enjoying. There has been very little zero or below zero weather. Comparatively warm days have been the rule and, unlike other winters, they brought no heavy snowfall.

The only objectors are the old-timers, that is some of them, who are unable to bear the fine winter without casting reflections and saying, "We'll pay for this some time with blizzards and 40 below." In short, they believe Old Man Winter is just throwing out the good weather as a bait and that soon he will envelop all Central Minnesota in a terrific brand of Arctic weather.

What Service Clubs Teach

SERVICE clubs teach the value of service, that he profits most who serves best. One of the principal things taught is to do good in a civic way, to aid organized effort, to bury your work as an individual in the organization.

Self exploitation is never countenanced.

AN easy way to compute the possible effect of a sales tax is to take two per cent off your gross business for the year. If you showed some profit in 1930, the two per cent will cut into that. If you ran even or had a loss, the two per cent deduction will shove you down so much further in the loss column.

Canadian Teams Win (By United Press)

The Toronto Maple Leafs moved into the lead in the international group of the National Hockey League last night by defeating the Montreal Maroons, 1 to 0. The defeat pushed the Maroons back into a tie for second place with the Canadiens who eked out a 2 to 1 decision over the New York Americans.

Roy Worters, American goalie, scored the winning goal for the Canadiens. In his haste to toss the puck out of danger, Worters flipped the disc into his own net.

Boston's high-powered Bruins, leaders in the American group, had little trouble in defeating the Ottawa Senators, 3 to 1. Finnigan scored late in the third period to save the Senators from a shutout.

Philadelphia lost its 19th game of the season, losing to Chicago, 4 to 0. The game was enlivened by a fist fight between Shields of the Quakers and Ingram of Chicago.

Bill Cook's first period score gave the New York Rangers a 1 to 0 victory over the Detroit Falcons.

Remember the Good

PAUL BLOCK, noted writer, publisher and director of many newspaper enterprises, recently carried a fine glowing editorial in his newspapers. He counsels one to remember the good, and states:

"It was an old French philosopher who said, 'I have lived a long time, and I have seen only the good.' During the year that is past many have been seeing too much and thinking too constantly of things that are not good and which ought not to be remembered. We have heard much of unsatisfactory business conditions, of international disturbances, of the rumors of war. There seemed to be a great deal of bad news in the world, and it was all but overwhelming.

"During the Christmas holidays which have now come to a close, our thoughts turned to the better and finer things of life—to family and friends and the generosity of the human spirit. We have been remembering, during these days, that there is much goodness and kindness and thoughtfulness all about us. We see that it is a good world after all.

"The thing to remember about the past year is not a temporary business depression and temporary unemployment. The thing to remember is that millions of dollars throughout the length and breadth of the land have been quickly and gladly contributed in an effort to relieve human suffering.

"Rather than remember international quarrels that seem so near the surface, we should think of the London disarmament conference which marks only the beginning of what some day may be a lasting program of peace among the nations.

"When we are tempted to remember bad business, let us recall instead the tremendous fact that the United States is about to spend about a billion dollars in public works in the year 1931. This is the largest construction program in the history of our country. It will give employment to many thousands of men.

"During the past year we have seen governments in South America overturned. We have seen European cabinets come and go. We have seen nations shaken from their foundations. Let us be happy in the conviction that the government of the United States is sound. Let us be happy in the thought that the American people are the best cared-for in all the world.

"And so, this New Year's Day, following the close of a year in which we have found much to worry about, let us remember the great blessing that has come to this nation, and the many reasons for thankfulness that confronts us all.

"The spirit of Christmas made us remember only the good. May that memory remain with us and keep us on the upward road in the year to come."

Norman B. Black

WHEN death wrote "30" to the career and life of Norman B. Black, of Fargo, N. D., it took from the Northwest a great publisher and writer, a man endowed with all the attributes of a real gentleman, a man who believed in his fellow man and who in many ways, individually and through his affiliation with various organizations, labored to better conditions in the world for all humanity.

Black's career was marked by indefatigable energy, and by the intelligent use of the resources which nature so splendidly endowed him with. Of commanding presence, he graced well any lecture platform. He had a splendid baritone voice which found its most wonderful utterance in that song which Rotary sings, "The Bells of St. Mary." His pen was never idle. He combatted evil and sham whether it reared its twin head in politics or elsewhere.

Frequently he visited Brainerd. While Rotary District Governor he widened his acquaintance in the Northwest. His record in Rotary raised him to high distinction in the international circles of the service organization.

His death is felt as a personal loss by the many privileged to know him in Brainerd and elsewhere.

Taxation Bills are Numerous

THE new legislature of Minnesota will be faced with a mass of bills, some radical in their nature, seeking new ways to tax the citizens. After a year of depression industry and labor are seeking daylight and want to breathe better without being fettered with new ideas on taxation. Even the gasoline tax is not exempt, somebody wants to tack another cent on the tax.

Some other fellow wants to raise the license fee range on cars. In dozens of ways the legislators are striking to raise more money by taxation and then to spend the money.

A moratorium in taxation bills would certainly be a good thing in these days of reconstruction, new building and emerging from the past year's slough of despond.

Such a Pleasant Winter

It has been many years since Brainerd and the Lake Country have seen such a pleasant winter as we are now enjoying. There has been very little zero or below zero weather. Comparatively warm days have been the rule and, unlike other winters, they brought no heavy snowfall.

The only objectors are the old-timers, that is some of them, who are unable to bear the fine winter without casting reflections and saying, "We'll pay for this some time with blizzards and 40 below." In short, they believe Old Man Winter is just throwing out the good weather as a bait and that soon he will envelop all Central Minnesota in a terrific brand of Arctic weather.

What Service Clubs Teach

SERVICE clubs teach the value of service, that he profits most who serves best. One of the principal things taught is to do good in a civic way, to aid organized effort, to bury your work as an individual in the organization.

Self exploitation is never countenanced.

AN easy way to compute the possible effect of a sales tax is to take two per cent off your gross business for the year. If you showed some profit in 1930, the two per cent will cut into that. If you ran even or had a loss, the two per cent deduction will shove you down so much further in the loss column.

Airplanes Drop Food,

Clothing and Fuel to

Marooned Fishermen

London, Jan. 9.—(UP)—Airplanes dropped food, clothing and fuel to 16 fishermen stranded in a small boat on an ice floe eight miles off Styrsudd lighthouse today while an ice breaker was en route to their rescue, a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Helsingfors said. Seven fishermen and two women, adrift in the Baltic for 36 hours, had reached land after forcing their boat through thin ice.

The fishermen were lost among drifting ice when they went to sea in an effort to save their nets, cut loose by a storm. Airplanes were sent from Helsingfors to look for them.

FORD COAL

Product of Ford Motor Company

THERE are several features about Ford Coal which make it so economical to use — and so satisfactory. For example, it is carefully screened and graded for size.

Ford Coal has a high carbon content, giving more actual heat. It was chosen by the Ford Motor Company after chemical analysis showed that the fuel was "highest"—long burning, with little ash. Rigid Ford standards of production assure uniform quality.

And it's clean coal — picked free of waste and impurities by expert men under strict supervision. A two-minute decision now will give you a better winter. Phone us your order for Ford Coal today.

THE GREAT AMERICAN VALUE

At the National Automobile Shows

Chevrolet wins first place for the fourth time

First place at the National Automobile Shows—a position granted on the basis of annual sales volume—is again awarded to Chevrolet.

This is the fourth consecutive time that Chevrolet has achieved this honor. And the reason lies in the exceptional value which Chevrolet cars consistently provide.

This year, in its bigger and better Six, Chevrolet is offering an outstanding example of the value which has brought it such record success.

In fact, no previous Chevrolet car has ever represented such a high degree of quality and advancement, and sold at such low prices as today's Chevrolet Six.

Airplanes Drop Food, Clothing and Fuel to Marooned Fishermen

London, Jan. 9.—(UP)—Airplanes dropped food, clothing and fuel to 16 fishermen stranded in a small boat on an ice floe eight miles off Styrsudd lighthouse today while an ice breaker was en route to their rescue, a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Helsingfors said. Seven fishermen and two women, adrift in the Baltic for 36 hours, had reached land after forcing their boat through thin ice.

The fishermen were lost among drifting ice when they went to sea in an effort to save their nets, cut loose by a storm. Airplanes were sent from Helsingfors to look for them.

100,000 INNOCENT CHINESE PEOPLE RUTHLESSLY SLAIN

DETAILED INVESTIGATION OF MASSACRES BY COMMUNISTS IN KIANGSI PROVINCE

124,000 HOUSES BURNED, $300,000,000 (MEXICAN) WORTH OF PROPERTY DESTROYED

Hankow, China, Jan. 9.—(UP)—Extraordinary casualty figures, resulting from a detailed investigation by the war zone committee of the recent massacres by communists in Kiangsi province, were made known today.

The report—submitted to the national government—declared that 100,000 innocent inhabitants were ruthlessly slain within six weeks, about 124,000 houses were burned, and $300,000,000 (Mexican) worth of property destroyed.

The red terror affected almost two-thirds of the province, with Kian suffering the most. Located in the interior of Kiangsi, the city was left without adequate protection and came under the control of the communists for nearly two months. A Soviet form of government was set up and functioned, being responsible for the daily ruthless killing.

Chung-Shan Erh Pao, the official organ in Hankow, gave a graphic account of the brutalities and organization of the reds and confirms previous reports that as a result of the massacres "the Kian river literally ran red with blood, and dead bodies were piled mountain high."

From October 4 to October 11 more than 10,000 persons were slaughtered, and many more suffered a similar fate during subsequent weeks. A statement issued by the Kian relief commission placed the casualties there at 40,000 of whom 6,000 belonged to the educated classes.

The report stated that communist organization was divided into eight commissions for their terrorist methods: (1) the commission for exterminating reactionaries; (2) a finance commission; (3) The Kiangsi provincial Soviet government; (4) a people's commission; (5) the Kian district general labor union; (6) the Kian city Soviet government; (7) the red military academy; (8) the poor people's union.

The massacres were carried on by the reactionaries suppression commission. During the first week after the capture of Kian, anyone could commit butchery but on the eighth day a proclamation was issued that allowed only the commission to execute officially.

A public announcement was made every morning giving a list of three or four hundred of those who were to be shot or beheaded. Prisoners who belonged to the better class were tried by special tribunal. The trial was a mere formality as all learned men, especially those who were well dressed were looked upon as enemies of communism and therefore must die.

In many cases prisoners were tortured to death, their eyes and hearts being taken out of their bodies and cut into many pieces.

Peking, China, Jan. 9.—The government announced today the direction of a punitive expedition against Mohammedan raiders in the province of Kansu, deep in the interior of China.

Advices from Lanchow said the Mohammedans had carried out widespread plunder and massacres in the province in the last 12 months. Estimates of the number of natives massacred ran as high as 30,000, while it was believed another 30,000 had died of starvation.

The Mohammedans captured and carried away some 20,000 women, the Kansu advices said.

COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS ARE CONSIDERED

STATE SENATE CONSERVATIVES AND LIBERALS MEET OVER WEEK-END

PLAN OF PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION IS BEING CONSIDERED

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 9.—(UP)—Resumption of conferences of state senate conservative and liberal leaders over committee appointments was planned today in the week-end recess.

A plan of proportional representation of republicans, farmer-laborites and democrats was to be submitted to the liberal group. In return for agreement to this proposal, Lieutenant-Governor Henry Arens, farmer-labor, would be allowed the customary right of the president of the senate to appoint the committees.

Senator A. J. Rockne, Zumbrota, member of the conservative group, said he had hopes that an agreement satisfactory to all parties would be reached.

A test vote in the first session of the senate was cited by conservatives as showing they had power to name the committee on a purely party basis if they desired.

In this vote which took from Arens his power of appointing the senate rules committee, the conservatives had a majority of nine. Arens said today that he would remain in the city over the week-end and would confer on the situation if there seemed to be a possibility of a compromise.

Both liberal and conservative groups have obtained a list of committee preferences from nearly every senator and with the exception of two or three committees, no great differences of opinion were believed to be held in regard to the appointments.

Meanwhile, house members, also in recess, had scattered to their homes to finish up personal business before the work of the session starts in earnest Monday.

Representative Oscar Swenson, of Nicollet, speaker of the house, said today that he did not intend to announce appointments of house committee members until next week.

Check of employees of the house showed today that five more were on the payroll than in the last session. Employees totalled 122 compared with 117 in 1929. Six clerks were added this year and one doorkeeper was removed. Increase in the payroll totalled $3,060.

Senator Chris Rosenmeier, Little Falls, doubted whether a compromise agreement, with Arens appointing committee members could be agreed upon.

"The compromise has not been formally taken up," he said. "I doubt whether our steering committee will agree to the matter, either."

DAILY CROP OF BANDIT ROBBERIES

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 9.—(UP)—Six bandits, armed with automatic rifles and pistols, robbed the Commercial Savings Bank of $15,000 in cash today.

Four of the bandits covered employees of the bank with their guns while two or the intruders scooped up money in the cashier's cage and carried it away in a satchel.

The other bandits then backed from the bank, climbed into a waiting automobile and hurried away.

Only one customer was in the bank at the time. When the bandits entered and ordered him to holdup his hands, the customer fainted.

Milwaukee, Jan. 9.—(UP)—An attempted holdup of the Columbia Savings Bank was frustrated here today when an employee disregarded orders of five armed bandits to lie down and pressed a burglar alarm.

The men fled when the bell sounded and escaped in an automobile.

It's the way Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted that makes it such a joy to drink: Instead of roasting their blend in bulk, Hills Bros. roast only a few pounds at a time. By exact control of heat, every berry is roasted evenly—to that degree where all of the flavor nature gave it is developed to perfection. How different from the bulk-roasting method in which exact flavor-control is impossible!

As fast as Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted and ground, it is packed in vacuum cans that keep it always fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out and kept out of the vacuum can. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh.

DEFENSE OPENS IN H. L. STEARNS TRIAL

Wife Testifies That Carner Gave Defendant Permission to Sign His Name

Mrs. H. L. Stearns, wife of the former county road foreman who is now on trial charged with uttering a forged county warrant, testified at the trial this morning in district court that Ray Carner gave her husband permission to sign his name to a county warrant.

She was the first witness called by defense attorney, Elmer Kling.

The state contends that Stearns signed Carner's name to a county warrant which entitled him to $3 a day while the foreman paid the workman $1.50 a day in 1929 and $1.75 a day in 1930.

The defense promised to introduce testimony that the difference in wages went to him to meet a debt which the boy's father owed him and that the father and he had an agreement to that effect.

County Attorney A. J. Sullivan announced to the court that the state rests at 11 a. m. today. The motion made by Kling at this time, the jury being excused, for a dismissal of the action against Stearns on the grounds that the state had failed to prove its claims was denied by Judge Graham Torrance thus assuring the case to go to the jury.

The case is expected to go to the jury either late today or early tomorrow.

MILK SANITATION UNDER AVERAGE

Brainerd Placed 19th in Ratings of Survey Made of 31 Minnesota Cities

Sanitation of Brainerd's milk supply is below the average of 31 Minnesota cities of over 5,000 population according to a report received today by Dr. J. A. Thabes, Jr., Brainerd health officer.

The report covered a survey by the Minnesota Department of Health, Division of Sanitation, the summer of 1930 on the basis of standards advocated in the U. S. Public Health Service "Standard Milk Control Code."

Brainerd was rated 19th in the list of 31 cities. Its rating follows: health rating, 38.6 per cent; retail raw milk, 62; raw milk to plant rating, 38; pasteurized plant rating, 66; per cent of milk pasteurized, 36.

The average for the state for the purpose of comparison follows: health rating, 44.5 per cent; retail raw milk rating, 64.3; raw milk to plant rating, 30.2; pasteurized plant rating, 64.4; per cent of milk pasteurized, 81.4.

According to the report the health rating of the milk supply of a city depends upon the ratings of the production of retail raw milk, the production of milk for pasteurizing, the pasteurization of the milk, and on the percentage of the city milk supply which is pasteurized. The first three are divisions of the milk supply which is pasteurized. The first three are divisions of the milk supply which is pasteurized.

The ratings of the three divisions of the milk supply were obtained by inspecting a number of dairy farms or plants in each division.

Statuary Hall

In 1864, at the suggestion of Senator Morrill of Vermont (then a member of the house) the room which had formerly been known as the hall of representatives was set apart as a national statuary hall, to which each state might send statues of two of its distinguished citizens. Rhode Island was the first to respond, choosing Roger Williams and Nathaniel Greene, and more than half of the states have contributed one or two statues.

SUNDBERG DENIES LARCENY INTENT

Reported as Admitting Entry; Barrett Pleads Guilty to Use of Car Without Owner's Consent

George Sundberg entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of entering the Home Oil Co. station, corner Maple and Eighth streets with intent to commit the crime of larceny when arraigned in district court before Judge Graham Torrance Thursday afternoon.

Edward Quirk who was arrested with Sundberg by Brainerd police when trapped in the station entered a plea of guilty to the charge previously. He will be sentenced Monday morning.

Hilding Swanson, attorney for Sundberg, said today that his client will admit entering the station but will oppose the charge of entering the building with the intent to commit larceny.

It was reported at the time of the entry December 7 that the Brainerd youths allegedly entered to recover a bottle of liquor.

Charles Barrett will also be arraigned for sentence Monday at 10 a. m., the West Brainerd man having pleaded guilty to using a car without the owner's consent. The car was the property of Walter P. Tyrholm taken from the car lot on the corner on South 7th and Maple streets, last July.

Marauders Use Summer Home to Skin Beavers Stolen From Pillager Ranch

Marauders of the North American Beaver Ranch at Pillager recently broke into a summer cottage near Brainerd after the raid, skinned the 17 animals they had clubbed to death, left blood throughout the cottage and piled up the carcasses under a tree outside.

This fact was determined when Deputy Game Warden A. P. Cardin investigated a report by two boys who said they came upon carcasses of animals piled in front of a summer cottage.

The boys came upon the discovery while hunting through the woods 12 miles north of Brainerd near the duck pond on Lake Molly. Identification of the carcasses as animals from the ranch was made by George Ramsey, manager, from marks on the tails.

DEFENSE OPENS IN H. L. STEARNS TRIAL

Wife Testifies That Carner Gave Defendant Permission to Sign His Name

Mrs. H. L. Stearns, wife of the former county road foreman who is now on trial charged with uttering a forged county warrant, testified at the trial this morning in district court that Ray Carner gave her husband permission to sign his name to a county warrant.

She was the first witness called by defense attorney, Elmer Kling.

The state contends that Stearns signed Carner's name to a county warrant which entitled him to $3 a day while the foreman paid the workman $1.50 a day in 1929 and $1.75 a day in 1930.

The defense promised to introduce testimony that the difference in wages went to him to meet a debt which the boy's father owed him and that the father and he had an agreement to that effect.

County Attorney A. J. Sullivan announced to the court that the state rests at 11 a. m. today. The motion made by Kling at this time, the jury being excused, for a dismissal of the action against Stearns on the grounds that the state had failed to prove its claims was denied by Judge Graham Torrance thus assuring the case to go to the jury.

The case is expected to go to the jury either late today or early tomorrow.

MILK SANITATION UNDER AVERAGE

Brainerd Placed 19th in Ratings of Survey Made of 31 Minnesota Cities

Sanitation of Brainerd's milk supply is below the average of 31 Minnesota cities of over 5,000 population according to a report received today by Dr. J. A. Thabes, Jr., Brainerd health officer.

The report covered a survey by the Minnesota Department of Health, Division of Sanitation, the summer of 1930 on the basis of standards advocated in the U. S. Public Health Service "Standard Milk Control Code."

Brainerd was rated 19th in the list of 31 cities. Its rating follows: health rating, 38.6 per cent; retail raw milk, 62; raw milk to plant rating, 38; pasteurized plant rating, 66; per cent of milk pasteurized, 36.

The average for the state for the purpose of comparison follows: health rating, 44.5 per cent; retail raw milk rating, 64.3; raw milk to plant rating, 30.2; pasteurized plant rating, 64.4; per cent of milk pasteurized, 81.4.

According to the report the health ratings of the milk supply of a city depends upon the ratings of the production of retail raw milk, the production of milk for pasteurizing, the pasteurization of the milk, and on the percentage of the city milk supply which is pasteurized. The first three are divisions of the milk supply, the fourth a cross-section.

The ratings of the three divisions of the milk supply were obtained by inspecting a number of dairy farms or plants in each division.

Statuary Hall

In 1864, at the suggestion of Senator Morrill of Vermont (then a member of the house) the room which had formerly been known as the hall of representatives was set apart as a national statuary hall, to which each state might send statues of two of its distinguished citizens. Rhode Island was the first to respond, choosing Roger Williams and Nathaniel Greene, and more than half of the states have contributed one or two statues.

FORMAL OPENING OF BIG TEN CAGE GAMES

MICHIGAN AND NORTHWESTERN PLAY AT EVANSTON

TWO WERE CO-WINNERS OF 1930 FOOTBALL HONORS, NOW FAVORITES IN BASKETBALL.

ILLINOIS AND PURDUE TO MEET AT LAFAYETTE, ELIMINATING LOSER FROM TITLE RACE
By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Jan. 9. — Championship hopes of four title aspirants will be put to the test Saturday night in the formal opening of Big Ten conference basketball competition.

Michigan and Northwestern, co-winners of 1930 football honors and favorites in the cage race, meet at Evanston in the feature contest. Although the season still is in its opening week, there is a strong possibility that the game ultimately may decide the championship with the winner going on to duplicate last year's success of Purdue which won both football and basketball honors.

Illinois and Purdue meet at Lafayette in a game which probably will eliminate the loser from the title race. Both teams were defeated this week, Illinois by Wisconsin, 12 to 9, and Purdue by Michigan, 29 to 22, the Boilermakers' first Big Ten defeat since 1929. Purdue, led by the great Johnny Wooden, is favored to win over Illinois' Sophomores and may yet have a hand in the disposal of championship honors.

In the other conference games, Minnesota boasting its strongest team in several seasons, is conceded an advantage over Iowa, returning to Big Ten competition after a year's absence; Wisconsin's defensive strength is expected to stop Ohio State; and Indiana is expected to maintain its traditional superiority over Chicago's vastly improved quintet.

Northwestern's impressive pre-conference performances, including victories over Notre Dame and Alabama, have established the Wildcats as a favorite over Michigan. Northwestern has the easiest schedule among the recognized title contenders, with Purdue, Indiana and Wisconsin missing from the chart, and regards Michigan as the most dangerous threat to its championship hopes.

Northwestern has an advantage over its rivals in experience with four veterans and the sophomore star, Joe Reiff, in the varsity five. The other schools, almost without exception, have teams composed largely of sophomores.

Hefty Newspapers

"Newspapers" in the form of large stone tablets have been discovered during excavations at Ostia, in Italy. One is said to record the death of Pompey in 49 B. C., and the will of Julius Caesar with his bequests to the people of Rome. Because of his dispatches from the war in Gaul, Caesar is often called the father of journalism, but it seems that Cicero, born in 106 B. C., has a greater claim to this distinction. Cicero used to post in the galleries of his villa at Tusculum a record or journal of the passing events of note, with a list of births, deaths, and marriages. From a letter of Cicero's it is known that he used a system of abbreviated writing.

WAYNE MUNN, FOOTBALL STAR, DIES IN TEXAS

San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—Wayne Munn, former football star of the University of Nebraska, died at 3:45 o'clock this morning from Bright's disease at the base hospital at Fort Sam Houston here. His wife was at his bedside at his death.

Munn, former champion heavyweight wrestler, came here six months ago seeking good health. For some time he promoted wrestling bouts until his illness sent him permanently to bed.

During the world war Munn was a first lieutenant in the infantry overseas.

The body will be sent to Fairbury, Neb., for burial.

NEW STAR IN MINNEAPOLIS BOXING CIRCLES

ART LASKY SCORES TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT ON JIMMY GIBBONS

COMES IN SECOND ROUND OF SCHEDULED 10-ROUND HEAVYWEIGHT FIGHT

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—A new star in the local boxing firmament rose today after Art Lasky's technical knockout of Jimmy Gibbons in the second round of their scheduled 10-round heavyweight fight last night.

Lasky, Minneapolis, was on the short end of the betting before the fight with his more experienced St. Paul opponent.

Outweighed by nearly seven pounds, Lasky opened the fight with a strong attack that Gibbons was unable to counter despite his greater boxing ability.

Hurt by Lasky's strong body blows Gibbons hung on and managed to weather the first round.

Confident that he had Gibbons' measure, Lasky rushed into him in the second round. After a flurry of blows to the body had dropped Gibbons' guard, Lasky caught his opponent on the chin with a short powerful left hook.

Gibbons dropped for a count of seven, but was dazed as he came up and was met immediately with a succession of blows that sent him to the floor again.

At the count of six, Mike Gibbons, his manager, tossed in a towel.

Results of other fights on the card: Britt Gorman, 11½, Minneapolis, defeated Elie Bartlett, 114, Minneapolis (10); Ide Parker, 17½, San Francisco, defeated Red Wilson, 183, Minneapolis (4).

HEAVYWEIGHT BOUTS A-PLenty AT CHICAGO STADIUM

PROGRAM INCLUDES HIGH CLASS FEATURES TO ENTREE CHICAGO FANS

KING LEVINSKY, JIMMY SLATTERY, MICKEY WALKER, AND TUFFY GRIFFITHS SIGNED

Chicago, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—Chicago stadium officials today announced plans for a series of heavyweight bouts which will provide Chicago fans with the most interesting program in the history of the stadium, even if attempts to bring a world championship contest here are unsuccessful.

The program includes bouts featuring King Levinsky, Chicago slugger, Jimmy Slattery, former world light heavyweight champion, middleweight champion, Mickey Walker and Tuffy Griffiths, Iowa heavyweight.

Slattery and Levinsky will meet at the stadium, Jan. 14, and Walker has agreed to terms to meet the winner early in March. Walker's acceptance was conditional on the promise that success against the Slattery-Levinsky winner would result in an attempt to match him with Tuffy Griffiths.

Slattery is willing to meet either Walker or Griffiths, or both, if he defeats Levinsky, but the king is less enthusiastic about meeting Walker—a match which would provide the greatest "natural" of years.

Charley Retzlaff, Duluth sensation who has won 26 of 27 professional bouts, also may win a place in the program. Retzlaff's handlers are ready to take the blanket off their man and if he defeats George Neron will seek bouts with Griffiths or Levinsky. The Duluth youth has performed sensationally against mediocre opposition and is regarded as the most promising heavyweight prospect of the day.

Retzlaff meets his first ranking opponent Jan. 14 in the semi-final to the Slattery-Levinsky match when he faces Neron, a Greek heavy who boxed Tuffy Griffiths eight close rounds two months ago.

AMERICAN DEBUT IN MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

FIGHT ORIGINALLY SCHEDULED 10 ROUNDS, NOW CHANGED TO 12

ENGLISHMAN HARVEY EXPLAINS THAT HE IS A SLOW STARTER

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Jan. 9.—Len Harvey of England, who modestly admits he will be the next middleweight champion of the world, makes his American debut in Madison Square Garden tonight in a 12-round bout with Vince Dundee of Baltimore.

The fight, originally scheduled for ten rounds, was increased to 12 when Harvey explained that he was a very slow starter and would require at least an even dozen rounds to get going.

The betting fraternity has made the Englishman an 8 to 5 favorite. The gamblers probably were guided by the Englishman's record and his work in training. According to his manager

Harvey has engaged in some 350 bouts, scoring 200 knockouts.

The Englishman's work against his sparring partners was efficient if not sensational. He showed a corking good left, a better than ordinary right punch, and a great willingness to mix it. He does his best work in close, and is forever moving forward.

Even if he turns out to be the most blazing fighter the Garden has seen in 50 years, however, Harvey cannot hope to live up to the advance ballyhoo of the Garden's highly-trained ballyhoo boys. The publicity agents went into a complete nose dive for the visiting fighter. Here are a few excerpts from their inspired typewriters:

"Harvey is the most durable English boxer ever to plant British boots on Broadway. Just before his slumber hour he eats what he calls Welsh rabbit, but what resembles creamy, smoky gum rubber. The same dish fed to an ostrich would make the latter go into a convulsion and die with its legs intertwined."

In description of Harvey's large forearm, the publicity man wrote: "The lower portion of his sleeves bulge like the center of a blimp. He could conceal four tall midgits, eight portions of chop suey, four pints of rye, and Monday's wash up his large cuffs without discomfort."

We read it twice to see if he was speaking of Harvey or Houdini.

Is Harvey cultured? Read this: "His speech would make Gene Tunney cringe with envy. His diction and flow of language is as pure as that of George Arliss."

"His left hook, propelled from a short distance, strikes with crushing effect, and the quiet Dundee is positive that the rugged Dundee will not be conscious after the fifth round."

Their marriage is prevented by Ken's mother's wish that he marry Cecile. When Ken fails to keep an appointment with Ardeth, Tom Corbett takes her to dinner. They meet Ken and Cecile. Later Ken tells Ardeth fear of disappointing his mother, whose days are numbered, forced him to attend Cecile's party. Tom invites Ken and Ardeth to a party at his mountain cabin. Mary Eastwood urges Ardeth to encourage Tom, warning her of impending disaster where Ken is concerned. Tom and Ken vie with one another for Ardeth's attentions. Tom proposes to Ardeth. Ken's proposal is interrupted by a telegram notifying him of his mother's illness. Ardeth is filled with foreboding.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXIII.
FEVER bright, the shrunken eyes looked up into his anxious face.

"The . . . end . . . Ken . . ."

The young fellow choked. "Why, Spider Kelly?" his tongue faltered over the old nickname. "Where's your grit! I'm here, dearest; you must get well! You can't throw me down like this!"

The faintest flicker of a smile touched the wrinkled face. A shallow sigh. The eyelids closed.

At Ken's gasp the nurse leaped to the bed. Then her low encouraging whisper, bringing the color to the man's face. "She's asleep. Best thing that could happen. Here—sit here. If she wakes and finds you here it's better than medicine."

Hours ticked away by the little china clock on the bureau. Hours, when the man sat unthinking in the chair, his brown hand warm over the wrinkled one on the bed.

All the world needed, leaving only this lighted room—an island of reality floating in a sea of chaos.

Now and then he was aware of others floating into his range of vision. The stout dark figure of the doctor. The white starched nurse. Cecile, slender and lovely as she stole noiselessly in to tuck a cushion behind his back.

The long vigil became a nightmare. At first his thoughts clustered entirely about that frail old figure on the bed. Then, as the first sharp edge of anxiety dulled—as hour after hour passed in shallow breathing and no change came over the grey withered face on the pillow, Ken's tired mind became vague—dreamy.

The drive down the mountains after a day of vigorous exercise had left him worn out. That day . . . was it possible that it was only a few short hours ago that he had been up in Tom's mountain cabin, laughing, joking with Mary and Fred and Phyllis? Dancing with Ardeth. Ardeth . . . Unconsciously he shook his head and closed his eyes as though to shut away the image of her face. The thought of Ardeth did not belong here in this room where his mother battled death.

Troubled Dreams.

He slept for moments at a time. Troubled sleep, shot with disturbing dreams. He was driving like a fiend—hurling down steep black roads like a falling comet. Ardeth was clinging to him and crying . . .

He woke with a guilty start. Leaned forward, holding his breath.

No change. The face against the pillow so warm—so small. The satin quilt lifting so shallowly over the shrunken whispered suggestion that he slip away and get some rest he vigorously shook his head. Sat upright. Blinking wearily at the bed.

The night lifted. The sky outside the window became a hard cold blue. The bleak light of morning crept in to dim the gold of the night light.

As though it called to her, his mother opened her eyes. Her voice, a shade stronger than it had been last night, brought his anxious face leaning over her.

"Cecile . . ." she whispered. "I pared for bed, her hands listless, her heart heavy.

She was awakened out of troubled dreams by the shrill peal of the phone.

She was there, clinging to the transmitter, speaking nervously, without any recollection of getting there.

The Net Tightens.

"I have to see you, Ardeth. Just have time for a few minutes. My only chance. Will you meet me downstairs if I drive around to the hotel?"

"In fifteen minutes," she promised.

She hung up. Snapped on the lamp. Two-thirty. Her heart leaped. What could have caused Ken to call at such an hour?

Suddenly she began to shake with a nervous chill, her teeth chattering, hands so cold and clumsy that she had trouble putting on her clothes. She slipped into her heavy coat. Pulled her hat on, regardless. Across the room her own figure moved in the depths of the mirror; a glimpse of a white face and wide eyes as she let herself out of the door.

She winced at the creak of the automatic elevator as she pressed the button. A strange, frightening time to be going out!

The street before the hotel was cold and deserted and she nudged in the doorway until Ken's car shot around the corner.

Ken suddenly became aware of Cecile standing close beside him.

could! To help him bear this wearing anxiety. A wave of bitter anger went over her at her own helplessness. She could not even have the dubious comfort of suffering with him. That place was reserved for Cecile.

At night she was afraid to leave her hotel room lest Ken should call her on the phone and miss her. She snatched a hasty dinner on her way up from the shop, and spent the long nights in her little aerie perched high above the city, waiting for the telephone to ring.

She could not read, much less settle down to sewing. Impossible now to work on those precious pink things which were to form her trousseau.

She spent the hours pacing the small room. Five steps brought her to the window . . . For the most part she sat looking out over the dark roofs to where the up-flung lights of downtown painted the low-hanging clouds ruddy.

The Christmas rush in the stores was far removed—alien. Strange that it should be near Christmas. There was no holiday in her heart. All things were swept away by this strain of waiting . . .

FORMAL OPENING OF BIG TEN CAGE GAMES

MICHIGAN AND NORTHWESTERN PLAY AT EVANSTON

TWO WERE CO-WINNERS OF 1930 FOOTBALL HONORS, NOW FAVORITES IN BASKETBALL

ILLINOIS AND PURDUE TO MEET AT LAFAYETTE, ELIMINATING LOSER FROM TITLE RACE

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Jan. 9. — Championship hopes of four title aspirants will be put to the test Saturday night in the formal opening of Big Ten conference basketball competition.

Michigan and Northwestern, co-winners of 1930 football honors and favorites in the cage race, meet at Evanston in the feature contest. Although the season still is in its opening week, there is a strong possibility that the game ultimately may decide the championship with the winner going on to duplicate last year's success of Purdue which won both football and basketball honors.

Illinois and Purdue meet at Lafayette in a game which probably will eliminate the loser from the title race. Both teams were defeated this week, Illinois by Wisconsin, 12 to 9, and Purdue by Michigan, 29 to 22, the Boilermakers' first Big Ten defeat since 1929. Purdue, led by the great Johnny Wooden, is favored to win over Illinois' Sophomores and may yet have a hand in the disposal of championship honors.

In the other conference games, Minnesota boasting its strongest team in several seasons, is conceded an advantage over Iowa, returning to Big Ten competition after a year's absence; Wisconsin's defensive strength is expected to stop Ohio State; and Indiana is expected to maintain its traditional superiority over Chicago's vastly improved quintet.

Northwestern's impressive pre-conference performances, including victories over Notre Dame and Alabama, have established the Wildcats as a favorite over Michigan. Northwestern has the easiest schedule among the recognized title contenders, with Purdue, Indiana and Wisconsin missing from the chart, and regards Michigan as the most dangerous threat to its championship hopes.

Northwestern has an advantage over its rivals in experience with four veterans and the sophomore star, Joe Reiff, in the varsity five. The other schools, almost without exception, have teams composed largely of sophomores.

Michigan strated the season with a relatively green team, but gathered power as it fought through a tough practice schedule and is certain to cause Northwestern plenty of worry.

Hefty Newspapers

"Newspapers" in the form of large stone tablets have been discovered during excavations at Ostia, in Italy. One is said to record the death of Pompey in 49 B. C., and the will of Julius Caesar with his bequests to the people of Rome. Because of his dispatches from the war in Gaul, Caesar is often called the father of Journalism, but it seems that Cicero, born in 106 B. C., has a greater claim to this distinction. Cicero used to post in the galleries of his villa at Tuscum a record or journal of the passing events of note, with a list of births, deaths, and marriages. From a letter of Cicero's it is known that he used a system of abbreviated writing.

Munn, former champion heavyweight wrestler, came here six months ago seeking good health. For some time he promoted wrestling bouts until his illness sent him permanently to bed.

During the world war Munn was a first lieutenant in the infantry overseas.

The body will be sent to Fairbury, Neb., for burial.

NEW STAR IN MINNEAPOLIS BOXING CIRCLES

ART LASKY SCORES TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT ON JIMMY GIBBONS

COMES IN SECOND ROUND OF SCHEDULED 10-ROUND HEAVY-WEIGHT FIGHT

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—A new star in the local boxing firmament rose today after Art Lasky's technical knockout of Jimmy Gibbons in the second round of their scheduled 10-round heavyweight fight last night.

Lasky, Minneapolis, was on the short end of the betting before the fight with his more experienced St. Paul opponent.

Outweighed by nearly seven pounds, Lasky opened the fight with a strong attack that Gibbons was unable to counter despite his greater boxing ability.

Hurt by Lasky's strong body blows Gibbons hung on and managed to weather the first round.

Confident that he had Gibbons' measure, Lasky rushed into him in the second round. After a flurry of blows to the body had dropped Gibbons' guard, Lasky caught his opponent on the chin with a short powerful left hook.

Gibbons dropped for a count of seven, but was dazed as he came up and was met immediately with a succession of blows that sent him to the floor again.

At the count of six, Mike Gibbons, his manager, tossed in a towel.

Results of other fights on the card: Britt Gorman, 113½, Minneapolis, defeated Ollie Bartlett, 114, Minneapolis (10); Ide Parker, 176½, San Francisco, defeated Red Wilson, 183, Minneapolis (4).

HEAVYWEIGHT BOUTS A-PLenty AT CHICAGO STADIUM

PROGRAM INCLUDES HIGH CLASS FEATURES TO INTRIGUE CHICAGO FANS

KING LEVINSKY, JIMMY SLATTERY, MICKEY WALKER, AND TUFFY GRIFFITHS SIGNED

Chicago, Jan. 9.—(U.P.)—Chicago stadium officials today announced plans for a series of heavyweight bouts which will provide Chicago fans with the most interesting program in the history of the stadium, even if attempts to bring a world championship contest here are unsuccessful.

The program includes bouts featuring King Levinsky, Chicago slugger, Jimmy Slattery, former world light heavyweight champion, middleweight champion, Mickey Walker and Tuffy Griffiths, Iowa heavyweight.

Slattery and Levinsky will meet at the stadium, Jan. 14, and Walker has agreed to terms to meet the winner early in March. Walker's acceptance was conditional on the promise that success against the Slattery-Levinsky winner would result in an attempt to match him with Tuffy Griffiths.

Slattery is willing to meet either Walker or Griffiths, or both, if he defeats Levinsky, but the king is less enthusiastic about meeting Walker—a match which would provide the greatest "natural" of years.

Charley Retzlaff, Duluth sensation who has won 26 of 27 professional bouts, also may win a place in the program. Retzlaff's handlers are ready to take the blanket off their man and if he defeats George Neron will seek bouts with Griffiths or Levinsky.

The Duluth youth has performed sensationally against mediocre opposition and is regarded as the most promising heavyweight prospect of the day.

Retzlaff meets his first ranking opponent Jan. 14 in the semi-final to the Slattery-Levinsky match when he faces Neron, a Greek heavy who boxed Tuffy Griffiths eight close rounds two months ago.
